Eight-Story Block to Be Erected on Wooster Street at a Cost of $90,000-Also a Store and Flat Building at Thirtieth Street and Ninth Avenue.

Real estate men have found the long coninned heat a serious obstacle to the comple tion of deals. Transactions that had been counted upon as certain have gone over to the Fall season, or have failed altogether because of the insistance of brokers in their efforts to do business. Yet not a day has gone by since the terridity settled upon New York that some negotiations of sig-nificance or importance have not been able section, but now included in the bustness district, changed hands. Mrs. Eliza C. Hawes sold to Hellner & Wolf, prominent reni estate operators, No. 18 East Seventeenth street, a four-story building, on a lot 25x92 feet. Odgen & Clark were the brokers. None of the persons interested would make known the selling price, but it was reported on excellent authority that it was reported on excellent authority that it was in the neighborhood of $60,000.

Yesterday, for instance, an old residence off Broadway, once in New York's fashionable section, but now included in the busi-

The house, which Mrs. Hawes owned for more than a quarter of a century, adjoins the southwest corner of Broadway and Seventeenth street, purchased by Mayer Kahn, a millionaire speculator, who, while on his annual holiday, died suddenly in Europe last month. Mr. Kahn a year ago sold the property to Mrs. Catherine Wadworth, who began the orection of a modern office building. She died before the building was far advanced, and her husband completed it.
